

New Software Updates Available for DevInfo 6.0 User, Data Admin Applications (June 2010)

The latest software updates (version 6.0.1.6) for the DevInfo 6.0 User and Data Admin applications are now available for download. These updates contain enhancements and fixes in the User application related to the display of maps, Advanced Reports and di Profiles. They also contain fixes to reported software bugs in the Template and Mapping modules of the Data Admin application.

To access the latest updates, click Check for Updates, which is located in the di About window in the User application and in the About dialog box under the Help menu in the Data Admin application.

For more information on specific technical queries, please visit our main website at www.devinformo.org and click Support from the main menu to submit a HelpDesk ticket. To learn more about the various features in both the User and Data Admin applications, click Training from the main menu to take one of the 26 interactive DevInfo 6.0 e-learning courses available.

Please feel free to forward and share this email with colleagues and counterparts who may be interested.
